Spoiler (Click to View)Omniscient not sure if you read my feedback, but thank you for the two new staff!

COMPUTER PROFESSOR FEEDBACK THREAD

I'd like to start out by saying I am going to be doing this feedback thread a little different, and there probably will be grammar errors. I won't go 100% arsekissing, and I prefer everyone to read while being unprejudiced. I know that is a lot to ask the internet to do. On top of the not going 100% arsekissing; I also will be reviewing only what I feel I can review. I won't review shit I don't know anything about or stupidly little that I am arsekissing or belitting about without any knowledge in that topic. Naturally people will disagree or agree with me. I'll accept any comments in this thread asking any questions about my thread. Lets get started!

ABOUT THE COMPUTER PROFESSOR

First off this is my story. I doubt anyone really cares, but for that one person who cares here it is. Back on the Forth of July in 2011 I joined Hack Forums. I was upset about something that day and I decided to join to see what this site was about. I was watching Hack Forums since 2009, but never joined until 2011. Quickly within less than a year I started to hang out in the Computer Overclocking, Customizing, and Hardware section. Also known as the COCH section by many of us that hangs out there. I part took in some group projects and one of them got sticky and still is sticky to this day. I created a thread along with a bunch of other members at the time for PC builds with over 1,800 posts. Many people try to recreate that thread but failed. I was for 6 months inactive until early 2015. I've been in multiple groups but I never really fitted well in any because normally I would be the only COCH guy and they would end up sticking someone who knew little about computers with me and I would have to teach them even though I was a lower rank. The last group I was in was brotherhood. I will be reviewing myself in this thread so if you want to read more go look in there.

HACK FORUMS USERBASE

I am impressed by how much it improved over the years. In 2011 it was a cataclysm. People would post garbage all the time it seemed like, until sometime around 2015 when I came back from a selfban, that is when I noticed that HF has for a lack of a better term "matured". Something changed because when I left there was a shitstorm happening and when I came back it was much better.

COMPUTER PROFESSOR

I really like myself, but I do notice the problems I have when I am on this site. Once in a while I end up drinking everclear and I try to help members or even Omniscient one time. Omniscient ended up telling me to change my name which was very humorous. I digress though. I use to contribute a bunch back in 2012-2014, but now I mostly help users with older/old computers or trying to find members a budget computer. I also do benchmark videos and post them up to show what older hardware can do so members can see that older computers can still do what they need them to do. I use to contribute in new PC builds and many other stuff such as information threads, but gt403cyl has the computer builds covered now pretty good. As for the information threads those take weeks on end and the ones we have are mostly fine in the coch section. The one thing that I probably should improve on myself is start hanging outside the coch section more. I have over 12,000 posts in the coch section.

OMNISCIENT

I remember when you said Hack Forums is going to change people lives. It did end up getting me knowledge and getting me a job for 2 years of very high pay for my age. Until I left for college which is another story I will get into if I decide to leave. I really admire what you done mostly. You have successfully created Hack Forums, and I know you probably have some stress while on Hack Forums. You manage to enforce rules even though you have staff to do it. Many people claim for you to be unfair, but I don't think so. The way I see Hack Forums, is that its a business. You want some nice awards give some money. Another thing is that if you were as rude as people claimed I would of had consequences. There few times I PM you, and I remember that comment about the Computer Professor username. Lastly I remember this thing for Web Browsers and I was debating that it should not implicated because there are members who don't use Google Chrome or Firefox. I am pretty sure if what people say about you is true I would of been gone already.

ENTIRE STAFF OTHER THAN OMNISCIENT

Normally I would of set you guys in groups but I know you guys far less than even Omniscient. I love how you guys clean up a lot of Hack Forums. I've noticed a lot of sections are clean, but I wish you guys would patrol the Computing section more. We have members who ask software questions in the hardware section which belongs in some other subforum. We had a member who posted a picture of a grown man naked having a bowel movement which took 9 hours to remove. Anyway keep improving, and keep up the good work.

THE BROTHERHOOD

This is the only group still active that I've been in, and the only review I am doing for groups because I won't know what to talk about for other groups. The members here knows one another pretty well. I was mostly an outcast in the group though. In time the group fall apart from something that I am not sure if I am allowed to talk about. It seemed to come back though. I don't have much to say other than you guys did good when it was in its heyday, and when I came along for the ride I was by myself because I was the only one out of the COCH section. My recommendation for that is try to get more than one person that have the same interests.

MY THOUGHTS ON OTHER MEMBERS

Spoiler (Click to View)

elemein

EXTREMELY knowledgeable in processors. We use to do HF Hardware News together. It was really fun while it lasted. I guess I got you upset for something at one time, but I don't remember what it was. Anyway you're cool.

Daisy ?

The girl that upgraded me to I33t! Was a very nice lady while she was here.

Mark Webber

The overclocking GPU king! Its been awhile since you shown off anything though. You are always fun to talk to whenever we get the chance. Also use to help out with the Custom Computer Service thread.

phybe?

The guy that upgraded me to ub3r!

Aersol

Long time member in the coch. Hope all is going well!

DemonCorp

I have not seen you around for a long time. It was great when you posted around!

Zankza

Great member! Always was fun with you around. Knows a bunch about servers and thank you for that SSD!

D?xing

You use to help out with the Custom PC Service thread, and we use to talk.

M?xxi

I love your gif lmfaol. On a serious note I was glad you helped out in the coch section for the short time you did.

learn4r

I am glad you are still somewhat active on here. You joined before me, but have far less posts lol. You are still a knowledgeable person in my books.

T??z???l????

You're the only person with a closed account with a thread that is sticky.

Bengali

You're a character, and use to be active in the coch section. It's sometimes nice to see you post.

Programmargorp

We made a thread that got sticky together and was a load of fun. We also did the Custom PC Service thread together. We were both AMD fans at one point in 2011. You are always fun to talk to whenever we have a chance.

Metalocalypse

We did the Custom PC Service thread together. You're pretty cool and use to hang with us in the coch section.

Xycon

You're cool and knowledgeable. After all these years I know the least about you.

Gt403cyl

You're really amazing sir. Its always fun to talk to you. You are knowledgeable when building computers that I stop recommending mine all together which is something I thought I never do. I love the feedback you gave on my channel. I really appreciate what you've done. I do say maybe we should game sometime?

unSatisfied

When will you become Satisfied? You've been unSatisfied since 2012. Anyway thank you for contributing to the COCH section.

Breeze26509

One of the youngest coch members. Its nice that we have a younger face around us old guys. ??

d33l

A new coch member. You're the only non upgraded member on my list! I remember when you first started posting in the coch section. You had -3 rep and I bump it to a 0 to give you a fresh start. You did not disappoint me at all!

webdev77

Thanks for everything you done in the coch. You're also great mate!

archangel.dmitry

I have no idea when you started to help out in the coch section, but you're a great member! Keep up the wonderful work!

Steve Kosh

Start posting more often. Been a while since I seen you post.

ka$h

Just recently saw you posting on and off in the coch. Not enough to really feel you out yet, but glad we have another person!

illuminati?

Added me back in brotherhood a few times when I missed the thread for letting them know i'm still alive.

Jelokadi - January 6, 2017, 7:46 am

Great one, awesome post count, and congrats on the 1k REP :)

Lante - January 6, 2017, 8:50 am

I enjoyed your presence, feedback and contributions in the COCH section when I was roaming there in 2012-2013, and continue to do so.

Gt403cyl - January 6, 2017, 8:55 am

Nice thread, I didn't realize you had that many posts in COCH, I know you were up there but wow.

Captain Steve Rogers - January 6, 2017, 9:45 am

Congrats mate.

Your posts in COCH is something unbelievable.

Keep going ?

Moxxi - January 6, 2017, 10:39 am

Nice feedback thread, Thanks for the shout out bro, helping with hardware was fun. I'll probably be back in that section in the future, haven't really done much on HF in general for a while now.

webdev77 - January 6, 2017, 12:01 pm

Thanks for the mention. Always good to see you around the forums even if I sometimes feel like I am time traveling when seeing some of your hardware. ?

I hope you stay around awhile because the people of HF certainly benefit from your assistance.

Steve Kosh - January 6, 2017, 2:56 pm

Thanks for the shoutout as well. I stopped posting mainly because I started a full time job and just don't have the time and just don't want to once I do get home.

ka$h - January 6, 2017, 3:24 pm

Wow thanks for the shoutout man and nice thread ? I hope to be more active in the coch section as I get more confident in expressing my opinion etc.

Your a genius when it comes to computer hardware along with Gt403cyl and I'm not quite sure if there is anything you two couldn't answer. I also really like your videos and hope you continue to make them.

wander is a multi dwc - January 6, 2017, 6:32 pm

Your recent videos are great, I have watched every single one of them. It would be lovely if you can do some AAA game tests on low end graphic cards like the GT 610 or its equivalent. :)

illuminati? - January 6, 2017, 9:20 pm

Good feedback, sad I didn't get a shoutout tbh.

Description - January 6, 2017, 9:27 pm

This was a nice read. I really liked this feedback thread. I'm glad you still find the forum enjoyable like most of us do.

Cheers!

d33l - January 7, 2017, 9:38 am

I always enjoy talking to people who also knows alot about computers and related topics.

Hoping for a great 2017 for us all COCH mains.

You Just Got Sarged - January 10, 2017, 9:01 am

I am not sure if Omniscient read this thread, but if he did thank you for adding the two new staff!

I have a geforce 710. We will see!

Ramsay448 - January 10, 2017, 3:44 pm

Absolute Throwback. Nice to have you on the site mate, youve done a lot after me and Chris went AFK in COCH ?
