Thread: SPIDERMODE \(uid = 3272153\) chargebacked -- GT purchase

User purchased GT "Core" from me for $260.00 USD (which he sent as $260 Canadian at first, trying to sneak a deal out of me.. red flag!).

HF PM confirming his payment sent - <https://gyazo.com/ed33fa4199f92fcd049097e17c7e7792>

Still trying to purchase things on the forums so I'd avoid dealing with him unless you're just really aching for a PayPal dispute, lol!

Well... that's why I usually deal with more trustworthy people when exchanging. GL with the dispute, hope you get your money back.

It's fine I'll be opening up my own deal dispute. Trustworthy my ass, should of known better not to deal with you. I get signed out of my GT while being online, damn right I'll charge back. Ex staff my ass. Give me my account back and you get your payment back.

Deal with extreme caution and view negative reputation.

Zzz. User secured and changed the account details to the gamertag. No one has access to the account but me and I've sold plenty of GTs on the site. He still has access to it but is trying to swindle his way for another deal before he stops using the site. lol! User is a fraud.

Proof he still has access - payment was sent from an "Anthony Granitto", user's phone # is a Montreal number ending in "4994", look at the security recover options -- one of the recovery emails is his very own PP email he sent me the payment with "anthonygranitto@outlook.com", phone number matches the exact # I have too. "sp" probably stands for his HF email address if we knew it -- spidermode@outlook.com probably with how predictable this idiot is.
