Thread: Got some new ink today

VipVince - January 7, 2017, 3:54 pm

I know it is 'spooky' and not everyone's cup of tea, but I wanted something different; a theme almost.

As you see on one side is the face and the protruding skull, the new piece is a frustrated woman screaming, and my next piece will come into this face and join it similar to the skull. I didn't want to have ink like the next guy, you know the 'only God can judge me' tattoos, etc.

What you all think of it?

Is the one on the left a cover up? The one on the right looks more like a child than a woman.

Prophett - January 7, 2017, 4:01 pm

I think it looks good. It will look even better if you filled it in.

Do You Want To Bet - January 7, 2017, 4:02 pm

Korvo - January 7, 2017, 4:14 pm

It is something different, but I really like it man. What all do you plan to get next? And what kind of ink do you have on your arm? Couldn't see the arm ink much.

Lol you're into some creepy shit huh OP, might spook the ladies when you take off your shirt, but if you're into that sort of thing then it looks fucking dope, extremely professional looking, how much did it cost?

Your tattoo artist is skilled. They look good, a little big for where they are but thats just my opinion tbh :)
