It's like, pretty much poser music.

if you see someone in the street wearing a Metallica / Iron Maiden T-shirt they are most likely wearing them for a fashion statement(Trust me, 90% of them couldn't name a song other than master of puppets)

All the vocalists are Pretty boys.

wouldnt it just be a different genre of metal, totally unrelated to deathmetal?

Wow popular bands with attractive singers in them?! blasphemy! Honestly dude, nothing strange about that. You dont hear me ranting over how attractive some other artists are? It is part of the reason why they are popular in the first place.

To add to my side, most metal(death)core "fans" are teenage girls.

They know nothing whatsoever about metal, or even about the subgenre for that matter.

Bands like Death, Obituary, Cannibal Corpse, Burzum, Mortician, Carcass even Amon Amarth require a specific taste in music.

Metalcore is basically glam rock with double bass and low ass tunings.

aka mainstream shit : D

ALways have, and always will hate core

I personally am over metal core, but the odd time I'll listen to it for old times sake, like a throwback or something.
