This is possible. just add a note on your order that you have your own domain ?

SSL certificates can be used. We also use let's encrypt so you can even generate free valid SSL certificates.

You've also have access to raw log data and email encryption ?

Activated 2 account still giving away more

Activated another few accounts. Helped some peeps to setup their software ?

You've got access to RAW logs, Email encryption and SSL certificates
Email accounts/redirects and more

You've also have access to the softaculous software installer.
All this and more from an easy Cpanel interface

Still giving away more packs ?

You've been activated

Please note.

If you have a personally domain please add that as a note to your order ?

We upgraded some things behind the scenes and enabled some extra functions for PHP/SSL.
This will improve your customer experience Enjoy ?
