Any explanation as to why?

I think MaidSafe has quite a lot to offer if they can actually pull things off, but they've just been in the pipeline for so long.

Curious as to why you're throwing down now.

Great idea

have seen progress of a somewhat working product although not finished

somewhat solid team

10 years have passed since they started they are already on alpha. So estimating 6mon-1year till they will have beta or later a lot of people will disagree because they have lost money on maidsafe, but that's why daytime trading suck. For me it's you have to be patient. Seems like the only problem with investing in good cryptocurrencies is not waiting long enough to reap the rewards.

I'm impressed by its graph. Any idea why it's having more growth than btc/eth?Because they are very close to reaching a working product. They released vault this month as an update. Yeah I have heard of ETH and I just laugh when people recommend each other to invest in ETH while they are at 1B marketcap with so much PR and hype.

Maidsafe is the safest investment i could possibly think of. I also know 2 millionaires that invested into maidsafe. We have been chatting about this investment for the past year. I don't know any that invested into Eth though.

I just used Electrum wallet to transfer over 3900 Maidsafe coins from btc. It was fairly easy in the end. I use omniwallet.org to check my balance and will use it to transfer them out if and when I feel like it.

I think it is a great idea for a product and coin, I will likely use its features and not just invest in the coin but make use of the network. Will def look to buy more if things keep moving the way they are.

So what it is with the recent decline in value? MAID has steadily been declining the last few weeks. I understand they may have had a few technical issues but they seem to have solved them.

This concept is a great one, with a coin that really solves a problem and creates a service that many people including HF members could use and find useful. Anyone got any insight to the recent goings on?

After every big pump price will go down a little to correct itself. Considering the market cap of maidsafe just doubled in several days, most of us expected a drop until the next big release.

current price is around $17.5 cent. Just 3-4 cents down from it's highest price.
