Thread: Overwatch for cheap?

Anyone know where I can find Overwatch for less than retail? Preferably from someone who won't recover the account in the future. Didn't find anyone selling Blizzard accounts in the NFA section, and there aren't any deals on G2A. My bro wants this to go along with the new computer I built him; he doesn't care about names or stats or anything.

I thought, if I'm gonna get him a game, I might as well get it for a discount, right? ;P

I do not recommend you buy this game Account.

I also recommend that you buy from a reliable, no matter the price, most users will reconstruct the account and you will lose money and that's a shame.

I know in G2A has a lot of nice deals and from there I bought my copy.

But in general, if you find someone who sells you the Account ready with the game, just make sure that the Account is not stolen, and check that you are buying from a trusted guy.

Prices to account range from $ 20 to $ 25 ~ $ 30.
