Thread: Looking at alternative + recurring revenue

Creator. - January 18, 2017, 7:08 am

Hello everyone,

I am looking to setup an alternative and recurring revenue for myself that would take me little or more time (as I do not mind even longer setups) to start generating some money to spend on shit I am greedy about.

I am a professional UI UX Designer and Developer so I am looking at some niche that would require a website, Facebook ads, online selling (without physical products), PPC or anything else.

Let me know cause I got some money to invest as well. Just need some trustworthy guys to do it.

Cheers!

If you are interested in growing an Instagram account (for monetizing etc), I can do it for you for a monthly fee.

What kind of growth numbers are we talking about? I might be interested!

I have all the sources and what to post for a certain niche but that will take time. Unless you have a better idea that can convert.
