Search for comdlg32.ocx and you'll find your answer. You'll need to download it and put it in your system32 folder then in cmd put 'regsvr32 comdlg32.ocx'

twist3dblood - July 19, 2010, 7:35 pm

its because you change the icon of the builded keylogger(the server), if you wanna change the icon of the keylogger you must follow this steps:

1. change the icon of the stub(icon that you want to be use by your keylogger)
2. build your keylogger(do not use the change icon featres)
3. finish!

basically, when you build your keylogger. the builded keylogger will have the same icon of the stub!

guys . . . read my post! i'm releasing the v1.3 beta in the feature, so v1.1 is outdated!

Jollebollen - August 10, 2010, 7:07 am

First of all: Nice job! Love the GUI and the testing features, really really nice.
Easy to use and easy to set up.

Question: What is HBStub? DS.

EDIT:

My logs look likee this:

--(16:21:37)--

[Facebook - Mozilla Firefox]

--(16:21:37)--

[Californication.S02E08.720p.HDTV.x264.mkv - Media Player Classic Homecinema - v1.3.1264.0]

--(16:21:38)--

--(16:21:38)--

Really what is the purpose of this Keylogger it won't show any keys that are being pressed. No password logs are being displayed.

All I see is persons who's logging in on his MSN etc.

hackerbug - August 10, 2010, 8:36 am

hmm as what I have experience with my v1.1 it's a bug, and also sometimes you only get that log when your victim just using the mouse like viewing some files etc.

limb3r - August 10, 2010, 11:14 pm

Woliati - August 26, 2010, 1:12 am

This looks pretty god, I might try it.

hackerbug - August 26, 2010, 7:26 am

for all having this problem

[img]http://i100.photobucket.com/albums/m10/fuzz182_2006/hacker.png[/img]

probably your anti virus deleted the HBStub. HBStub is needed when creating your keylogger.

for those who wanna make it FUD then you can try it to crypt!

nice work thanks I may use this but dunno mhow to send them

hackerbug - September 3, 2010, 3:16 pm

if you wanna have a victim, send them in a forum or any social networking site!

lets say an online game hacking forum for an instance, post it there and put on your thread that this program is a hacking tool for the RS online game. then probably about an hour you'll get a victim!

Oxycotton - September 3, 2010, 5:19 pm
