Thread: No admin credentials and no admin page!

phe0nix404 - January 19, 2017, 4:34 pm

I retrieved all the tables from a website but no sign of admin credentials and i also tried to find an admin page through different scripts but no luck. The website has ftp port open and when i put admin as username it says username ok! that means i just need to find pw to get in. My question is that is it possible that it does not have an admin page and the owners are operating it through ftp only? kind of a noob question but really i hit a wall, because bruteforcing ftp is not a good option. I also tried some wordlists but no luck maybe the lists were shitty because i never used them and got them from googling. And fyi the website is an online gaming site, small flash games.. Do guide me if possible ?

Thanks in advance ?
