Thread: PromoBB - Forum Promotion Directory

_ _ _ _ _ - January 20, 2017, 10:19 pm

PromoBB a community and a family, we are the only forum that respects, and encourages all types of posts. This forum is revolved around our highest quality individuals. We strive to provide the utmost security and resilience for our members and their content, privacy is our number one priority. We mainly are a promotion directory community but will incorporate new forums and categories as see needed as we expand. We are also thinking of getting a new domain .

URL: promobb.ml

Change the theme.

"We are also thinking of getting a new domain" Don't think of getting a domain... go GET a new domain.

Fix the last post url thingy mcjigger as seen in this absolute sick screenshot I took

We are currently only promoting it . When we think we have got enough users and content , we will upgrade to a new domain and about that bug , You saw the default theme . Change your theme to another one and have a look at that theme . The bug is there but I don't think so fixing gives us any advantage because its not our default theme .

Don't you have access to change it?

The broken theme is default for me to when I visit.

Good luck going forward with your site. I think the domain is good, and it seems you're keeping it simple with the theme. I hope to see this site grow ~

Do you have any prior experience in forums ? If yes , I can help you to get a TLD domain and hosting. This project has potential
