Thread: HF Bot For Discord | Check The HF Of Discord Users | 850+ Users

F?cqlе?? - January 23, 2017, 7:40 pm

Once you're verified, you'll be verified in any server running the bot.

Add HFBot To Your Server

Bot is now public. Anyone can add it to their server.

INVITE HF BOT

To Get Verified:

Join the Discordian server (or any server with the bot) and use the //verify command. You will receive a direct message with instructions.

This is just a precautionary measure/for convenience and should not make you careless. If you're not 100% sure who you're dealing with on Discord always verify on-site first.

Squidward - January 23, 2017, 7:41 pm is there a discord server most hf members hang out where i can make sum friends ?

MeltyNet - January 23, 2017, 7:42 pm

Even know I don't use Discord, this looks like a really good idea/concept. I would definitely use this though. Good job OP!

Dale Carnegie - January 23, 2017, 7:44 pm

Was in the group while he was doing this. Works great!

ra1d - January 23, 2017, 7:45 pm

Yeah and who's to say you won't be compromised and the compromiser can utilize this to scam.

Everyone just needs to stop being retards and PM to confirm before doing deals.

No disrespect to you OP, but this is not a good idea in my opinion.

This is stupid. You should always PM the person ON-SITE when conducting deals.

So that you have a copy of the deal via PM incase something goes wrong...and you know you are 100% dealing with the person.

Like I said, it's more of a convenience. The safe trading practices don't change regardless of what platform you're using outside of HF.

I've kind of moved away from pitching it as a safety measure for obvious reasons. Anyone doing a transaction through Discord should always check via HF PM first. The convenience is nice to have though.

Just storing cookies for a basic http request module would make reading PMs possible, and through that you could ask permission for a separate HF account if you didn't feel like making your own account the host.

This can easily be spoofed for verification, Any person with developer options enabled can see default ID.

I could go on the HF discord and select someone at random and pretend to be them, I would suggest using some time of unique encoding where only the bot can encode/decode so they do not know the process making this more secure.

Example of what you could do (Just add some random encoding making it hard to follow and spoof):

/showthread.php?tid=5603588

None the less,

"Please verify me. Discord ID: 192045767798554625. Username: Vespei. Discriminator: 7058"

Quite a few people have asked me how the release of the Hack Forums API affects HF Bot. For now, there won't be any changes due to the fact that the API is in beta and only available to R3KT members. Once it's out of beta I'll be able to start work on some updates, but there may still be some limitations. Nonetheless it should allow for some cool features being added.

Thanks to the ~250 users who are currently verified with the bot. Hopefully that number grows as Discord becomes more popular. ?

I included the discriminator for when I add a user using a mention. Most often I add them by ID, but if they're in one of my servers it's a lot easier to find their username#0000 and add them that way.

The discord bot has verified me as the wrong user lol najjar - August 9, 2017, 4:00 am

hello

i need help :)

The bot needs to be for YouNow

What it needs to be able to do is simulate multiple viewers using proxies not too look 'bot-ty' anywhere from 5 - 100 viewers would be acceptable.

So that you have a copy of the deal via PM incase something goes wrong...and you know you are 100% dealing with the person.

Indeed, this could lead to some possible impersonation / hacked Discord scams.

However, I believe OP should just state that PM verification is a MUST if they're dealing with someone that has HF verified.

Nowhere in the OP did I state that this was an alternative to verifying on-site.

Nowhere in the OP did I state that this should be used for conducting business.

"Check the HF of Discord Users"

It's a convenience.

I'm not putting words into your mouth, I am merely stating that this could lead to some abuse and potential hacked Discord scams.
