Thread: NSFW Filter

CleverUSB - January 24, 2017, 8:36 pm

I thinks Hack Forums should add a NSFW feature. I believe I have seen this done on other forums before and I feel it would be great to add on Hack Forums! It also may be nice for some of the younger audiences or the people who prefer to not see strong content.

==UPDATE==

I have changed the title from "NSFW" to "NSFW Filter" because of confusion on the topic.

ZuGgY - January 24, 2017, 8:39 pm

Won't be added, highly doubt it.

Tony - January 24, 2017, 8:40 pm

If you use one of the userscripts packs, not entirely sure which one, it adds a NSFW feature to it.

It was a feature previously, not sure why it was removed.

Cabo - January 24, 2017, 8:40 pm

didnt there used to be a hackforums.net? i forget

Really? If you ever happen to see one I would love if you could hit it my way. ?

I'll keep an eye out for which one. I'm not entirely sure to be honest. I'll let you know though!

I don't feel like younger audiences should be on here period tbh.

I think not enough use

Or child pornography?

Drug Problems - January 24, 2017, 11:01 pm

This really isn't going to happen I believe.

1. Minimum age of the forum is under adult-hood.
2. They would have to weed it out for illegal NSFW

This would be enough to make the staff not wanna do it. Omni doesn't want people posting illegal stuff and getting him caught up in a mess.

NSFW removed all images and just made hf a white and black text based.
Mainly for people who didn't want other knowing where they were browsing or having something pop up on accident.
It wasn't a porn section

Completely irrelevant. The suggestion he is making relates to a thread tag of NSFW so that people have a heads up before clicking it that the content of the thread, be it text or images, shouldn't be viewed by some people or in public places. Whilst I personally think it would be a redundant suggestion, it doesn't specifically relate to anything porn oriented, as that's something I can't see HF ever accomodating due to DMCA issues amongst MANY other reasons.

M?xim - January 24, 2017, 11:37 pm

Can you tell us why you feel like this is needed? @OP

wander is a multi dwc - January 24, 2017, 11:41 pm

If you are talking about actual NSFW, Omniscient has made it so that no pornographic material is to be posted on this forum. Including hentai. So there's no point in having a NSFW filter.

If you are talking about hackforums.net, Omniscient has stated that he may or may not implement it after the forum upgrade to MyBB 1.8.

My assumption is that he means threads relating to sensitive topics that would typically be for discussions between those over 18, however OP isn't particularly clear about his intention. I can't imagine people wouldn't be able to guess the answer to 'can we have a porn section?'.

Copywriter - January 24, 2017, 11:46 pm

There's a lot of younger people under 18, don't think that would be worth considering, since practically any L33T hacker makes their birthday under 1998...

Punisher - January 24, 2017, 11:54 pm

Anyone posting disturbing content should be using a [spoiler] tag while including a warning that there is disturbing content in the spoiler, and if they're not then simply report the post as "adult content" and move on.

If your interpretation matches his original intention, then imho it's not something that I would want to be implemented on this forum.

Then again, this can be suggested in the thread prefix suggestions instead in the form of a [NSFW] tag. Still, highly doubt this would be implemented.

You're thinking of Lite (Archive) Mode, which can be seen if you click the link down at the bottom of the page.

<https://hackforums.net/archive/index.php/thread-5533197.html>

hackforums.net just took away all of the images (for various reason; load times and also because some users have suggestive avatars/signatures)

Vitani - January 25, 2017, 2:40 am

I don't think this will be needed as any real NSFW content is not relevant on HF or simply not allowed.

@OP, can you explain what kinds of things you would use this feature for?

I think they should change the age from 13 then.

Echoless - January 25, 2017, 3:54 am

The age requirement would have to change for the site in my opinion even with the NSFW. 13 is extremely low.

Won't change anything.

Not Safe For Work

Usually used for something 18+

Vince - January 25, 2017, 10:54 am

It was removed after a server change I believe. Omni just didnt add it back. That, and you shouldn't be browsing here while you are at work anyways? Or school?

ZuGgY - January 25, 2017, 10:58 am

OP, you should expand your idea more in the first post. What is it that you exactly want to be added/achieved?

If you don't want to see as much images on the site, then just go User CP > Edit Options and you can remove the ability to see avatars and signatures. We used to have the hackforums.net option that did this, but was removed, as others have mentioned.

If you're talking about a NSFW 18+ forum overall where porn/harcore images/gore will be allowed, that for sure ain't in hell happening like I said before.

My mistake thought they were one in the same ?

M?xim - January 25, 2017, 12:39 pm

Someone correct me if I am wrong,

Hack Forums does not allow any NSFW, such as porn or whatever.

Yet the original poster wants tags for NSFW, does he want Hack Forums to therefore allow NSFW?

Last_viking - January 25, 2017, 12:45 pm

Back then there was nsfw.hackforums ?
What was that then

CleverUSB - January 25, 2017, 12:47 pm

I just noticed how this could be confused, I wrote this thread late at night. I meant a NSFW Filter!

HF is NOT NSFW.

Won't be accepted.

I have seen many Forums that may not qualify as NSFW but have a filter option.

Omniscient - January 25, 2017, 1:05 pm

The NSFW was removed permanently. I wasn't related to adult images. It was more about hiding signatures, avatars, and the logo.

We don't allow any adult images to be posted or in profiles under any circumstance.
