Thread: Mobile Device's LTE Banned?

NegativeRep - January 26, 2017, 5:24 pm

I tried browsing HF today on my mobile device, about an hour ago and it said I was banned? No links on the site would work. all redirected to a page saying 'Sorry, your account has been banned. Further questions contact your forum administrator.' And the contact button wouldn't work. nothing. Not even resetting the browser.

I was browsing HF on LTE in the early morning today day, it was only an hour ago it gave me this. Obviously I'm not banned since I'm here typing this.. so wtf HF?

Turn your device off and on again....

No jokes, had to do it a few days in a row.

So my provider is banned when in the same location I was browsing on LTE hours earlier? Where is the sense that it's all of a sudden banned?

Could have been a specific IP and not the whole provider.

Like I say just reboot the device...

That is odd. I'd need to know the IP that you were using at the time.

Same here, but like Omni said, mine was an IP Block ?
