So for is $50 the max you can receive in paypal funds so you'd only be sending $42.50 or you can send a max of $50 in btc so I'd receive 57.5?

Just clarifying,t hanks

I accept $50 to my PayPal max. So you can basically buy a max of $43.46. Something like that.

I guess per account. I won't make the wait time between buys that long though, and if it's a trusted member that exchanges with me frequently I'll probably do higher amounts. ?

I don't know man a lot of people on your rep say you're a multi accounter. Not trying to be mean but it makes me a little uncomfortable. ?

the two individuals with those comments ive never even seen on the forum rather spoken to them the two negging me for exchanges ive never spoken to but my assumption was that they saw my thread i opened in trading topics when it was allowed there and they simply negged because i said i wanted a middle man if the buyer wasn't going first nikky is a teenage kid who got back i wouldn't let him scam me with that same mentioned thread, for a 20% deal because i didn't want to lose that much money every person that's done a real exchange with me apart from rival earlier, has left positive feedback for me. rival and i traded but he didn't rep so there's no feedback on that but i have the exchange in my paypal and btc account earlier today.

I never can do 1:1 unfortunately. That is why on the thread I stated anything below $8 is a standard $1 fee. So that would be $5 BTC for $6 PP.

I am online and stocked up if anyone needs any BTC. I will be online and selling for a few hours. ?
