i have a feeling that you incentives the offer or using blackhat methods.. chaturbate is pretty much saturated it's really hard to get find people who are interested in cams that don't know or have a chaturbate account already

You guys really think marketing old chaturbate links will still make bank? Why not buy a business from me?

I referred a lot of people long time ago from my blog but everytime the payout was 0. Even my blog traffic was from Tier 1 Countries. That was really disappointing.

Maybe you've used the revshare affiliate? Keep in mind you need people to sign up, not just enter the website to get a lead.

That seems like a great method of promoting another website and making money of of it. But is it really that good? I'm quite curious!

because you are broke enough to have to advertise in individual threads about your business that probably brings in about $5.25/month.

My friends that use it are all on a different forum.

I don't know which one though.
It's an adult related one.

They make a lot of money from the site.

I might use this, thanks for sharing this!

zamii - July 4, 2018, 1:58 pm

How do you get the $1 per sign up link? The only one I see is the revshare link.

BITCHLESS - July 4, 2018, 2:01 pm

Go with reveshare. It's more profitable, trust me you can make bank
