Live Sales Feed will display the latest orders placed on your website to your visitors. Order information such as Product Name, Thumbnail image, Customer Name, Customer City, Time Bought and No. of items in single order can be shown in the live feed. When you have new orders popping in, they will be shown in real time without refreshing the page.

How Live Sales Feed can help you with customer engagement and higher conversions?

This creative marketing tool will increase visitor engagement on your website and dramatically increase your sales through 'influential marketing'. Reports show increase in sale by at-least 40% – 50% in 1 week of activating this feature on stores. If you have a new store, Live Sales Feed will contribute to increasing the trust level on your site or if you have an established store, it will increase help boost your conversions dramatically. Live Sales Feed is a light weight plugin and works with all Wordpress and WooCommerce themes. In case it doesn't, you can let us know and we'll fix it for you.

This seems really suspicious that you registered just last month and are posting threads with download links and not giving much information.

You should really provide a virus scan if you expect anything you've posted here to be downloaded, I tried downloading the files to run a virus scan of my own and if it's infected to warn users but all of the download links have an issue, like one required me to be premium in order to download, another wouldn't download because of Adblock.

How is this related to web construction even?

Edit: Scanned file and it came clean but I would DWC, something suspicious here.

you worry over nothing. its nothing bad to post threads for members to make use of even if i registered today. only this post don't have much info. others do. also you are always provided option to download free.

also this is about website construction. am sorry if you don't understand it.

edited posts with infos.
