Thread: How about another Friends Chat?

Mafty Navue Erin - January 31, 2017, 9:06 am

How many of you guys would be interested in joining a Friends Chat with more of a niche based name? Something that would remain memorable and evident. I noticed people often create chats here with obscure usernames, and then a week later the chat dies out completely because they aren't that standout-ish. And I'd just like to make a chat where we could all hangout in and not have it die out completely.

I have a username available that will suffice being more standout-ish and niche related to our forum. I'll make an official thread if you guys think it's a good idea.

If I do this though, I'm planning to make it a cross-game Friends Chat. Anyone from both games would be allowed to join. I guess the goal of this would be to unite us.

Only thing I'd have a problem with though is ranking. I'm not good with that. Anyway leave me your feedback.

I wouldn't mind having a friends chat to sit in. All the streamer chats are absolutely terrible lol
