Thread: Blackhat Methods?

NGMA_temp - February 1, 2017, 8:26 am

Are they allowed to be sold here?

I do not think so. No blackhat activities at all.

These are various additional rules restricting certain blackhat hacking activity on HF. Read Help Docs to know more.

I mean like, are not people selling black hat methods here all the time? They are technically outside HF, no discussions takes place on the forum.

Thanks, my method would fall in a technical grey area ? Nothing specifically listed against it.

Might sell my method

Might sell my method If you're still unsure feel free to pm a Staff member and I'm sure they will have no issue making sure.

He made a thread for it. Pretty sure that the staff will answer and let him know.

As far as I know, many people sell it but you cannot discuss anything regarding blackhat activities on HF so I'm uncertain about this situation.

Even most grey hat methods on here shouldn't even be allowed as they are fraudulent related. But yes, to answer your question, it isn't allowed and you can report such blackhat activity

But they are being sold on an external site and nothing is being discussed on the forum. It is allowed, is it not? Seen many sell BH methods, I believe?

Am I really in the wrong here.

If they are outside of this list, you can participate in that activity.
