Thread: Firewalled and no response

UID_Panther - February 3, 2017, 11:16 am

I have been firewalled on my home IP for ages and I have no idea why. I tried contacting but to no avail. Wondering what I should do about this?

You've gotta add the UID, do you have any idea how many Panthers are on the site? like legit lol.

Also, when did you message the contact form?

uid=2575728

Eh it was immediately after I found out I was firewalled, about 2 months ago

The account isn't closed, how did you access it today thru this account?

Proxy? You have 3 matching ip's aswell.

You have very suspicious account IP activity.

When you say activity, do you mean how my IP keeps changing? I have to keep using different Socks5 proxies to access Hackforums as my home IP is blocked for some reason. I also have a thread open about the problem.

If you check on my account, I have a thread open because my home IP is blocked. I have to keep using different proxies just to access the site.

Clearing your cookies/ temp data could also help.
