the only seller with stock on these :) Most other sellers have no stock as there was just a big password change.....i still have plenty of stock. im the best and safest seller for these....currently....

Accounts4U - March 25, 2017, 1:05 pm

Hey guys, im offering SlingTV again. I have a method for keeping them running. Basically, aslong as you can sign in successfully, and dont sign out of the account....it doesnt matter about the password change. For this reason i wont be offering warranty longer than 24 hours on this account as i cannot verify if the account is dead. I can provide proof this method works.

I am offering 2 vouches. You will recieve account, login on your device. I will then change password, you will then confirm if you have lost access after password change
