Tid?es - February 5, 2017, 5:22 pm

The answer is "The Bastille"

Congratulations Hello Kitty

The first person to find the answer will receive the gift award or any upgrade ($25 if you have already have those).

Guess away, just don't spam.

Clue 1:

Quote:I am there for you and you are there for me,
Realistically, isn't that what was meant to be?
We've been through everything, thick and thin,
Being with you has been my biggest win.
I love you, I hope it isn't too late,
After all, aren't I your?

hint 1: the answer to this little riddle is just the first clue.

Virtually none of the steps align and the only helpful things are the hints. "After all," Tsiolkovsky, and the increasing numbers should have pointed to the end of the universe, randomization, entropy, or chance, but they didn't. Obviously a better way to arrange this contest would be to have users randomly poke at their keyboards and fiddling with numbers until somebody stumbles across the correct answer. Hardly a riddle.
