How many ways to get starting keylogger automatically?

- using startup folder
- using registry
- more than...?

And you can also use that to write a single line sentence

It's great!

Quote:Add a new startup application
Open your registry and find the key
[HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Software\Microsoft\Windows\CurrentVersion\Run].

For each program you want to start automatically create a new string value using a descriptive name, and set the value of the string to the program executable.

For example, to automatically start Notepad, add a new entry of
"Notepad"="c:\windows\notepad.exe".
