Eclipse is Recruitment Only

Recruitment Thread

Eclipse is a group of members that work together to share knowledge within our sub-forum to learn from and use to help contribute to the community of Hack Forums in anyway possible.

Requirements:

We are now allowing members to be accepted to our group, our specific requirements vary based on the member but here are our general guidelines:

Around 60+ posts per month of your account's age

No LQP or Harassment Warnings

No legitimate open or unresolved scam reports

No trolling or flaming other members

Acceptable grammar needed

We will also examine your threads, posts, rep, and other members' general opinion of you before we decide whether or not to invite you.

Note: We require our members to be active and participate in group activities. If you are invited, be sure to read our handbook and follow all our rules.

I want to join eclipse because many of my friends who were in synergy are here, as well as i think i would enjoy the atmosphere your leadership provides.

Why should we invite you to the group:You should invite me to your group because it will be the best group on hackforums, and if possible i'd like to get in early. I like to think of myself as a generally friendly person and having an atmosphere of friendship is important to self preservation. I'm pretty good with my critical thinking skills so i'm sure i can contribute idea's to help improve the groups activity, increase the groups presence on the forums, and increase the groups overall well being :)

I don't really like filling out the basic group application forms however I went ahead and did it anyway. I'm tired of being in groups that either: end up being inactive, or are filled with just lounge posters that don't really do much. I want to be a part of something where I'm around like-minded individuals and I can share my knowledge, along with learn more from others. I'm not a very active poster as I am mainly focused on my business projects on and off HF, but I do lurk quite a bit and still participate in things I'm involved in.

few other groups that no longer exist Why do you want to join Eclipse: I love being a part of groups that actually have logical conversations and where I can surround myself with like-minded individuals. From what I've seen, this group seems to not be filled with a bunch of cancerous users so I think I would fit in well.

Why should we invite you to the group: I would believe I'm one of the very few on here who can say they own a registered business, especially at my age. I have a lot to offer when it comes to online products/businesses as I've had a passion for business since I was 12 years old. I'm very dedicated about what I do and what I'm involved in and I feel that I could contribute a lot to the group.

I've been around HF for a decent amount of time to tell you that this group was far by the greatest HF group I've ever experienced on this forum. I would highly consider applying for this group to be able to obtain the same experience I personally experienced.

I have been told a lot that I have an exquisite voice, probably also one of the reasons I used to cast CS:GO games for Gfinity. I am a very helpful and kind person. I like doing whatever I can to help and make others feel better. Previous Groups You've been in:I have never been a part of a group here on Hack Forums. I recently turned into an active poster from a lurker. Why do you want to join Eclipse:Quite a funny story. I saw Views' thread about him wanting to exchange his Target Gift card - I was reading through his sales thread, and I loved the way he wrote, he had this amazing humor -- after reading some of his posts on his sales thread, I decided to stalk him a little. I decided to go through some of his threads and posts, and I just fell in love with his personality. He is a very humorous, but also a very helpful and generous member. I decided to stalk some of the other members of Eclipse, and I noticed a pattern. They were all extremely helpful and kind. This is the kind of group I would like to be a part of -- that is if, you would like me in.

Why should we invite you to the group:I am not going to lie, I do not know why you should; I do not know how this forum fully works yet, I am still new around here. Nonetheless, the reason you should let me into Eclipse is because I feel like I could do something good for the group. You already have a lot of helpful, kind, funny and generous members, but I would love to be a part of this whole ordeal. I would like to share my wisdom; I would love to contribute to the members of Hack Forums in the name of Eclipse. I would like to meet some new people -- perhaps I could even learn a thing or two from some of the members of Eclipse.

To quote the thread, "Eclipse is a group of members that work together to share knowledge within our sub-forum to learn from and use to help contribute to the community of Hack Forums in anyway possible."

I am convinced that I would be a perfect fit in this group, as I am all for contributing to Hack Forums and sharing knowlegde with others.

A few others I didn't have a connection with that I've actually forgotten Why do you want to join Eclipse: To be completely honest, when I first started applying to groups a couple years back, I was mainly interested in the userbar. Upon acceptance I found it was actually remarkably enjoyable meeting other people and building connections through a group. For me however, Titans was the complete game changer. We were all a very close knit family, and I genuinely enjoyed every aspect of having such a group of people, a family to be there for everyone. There was never a dull moment, it was educational and entertaining, and overall my greatest experience on Hackforums. After a while, it was the only thing keeping me active on Hackforums. Sadly Titans disbanded and I got extremely busy with college and had to deal with tons of other IRL changes, however I've passed those difficult times and am applying to Eclipse with the hopes I can rekindle that old flame of being a part of a great group and can meet new people who are likewise interested in learning with and helping others.

Why should we invite you to the group: Since I was last this active on Hackforums, a lot has changed in my life. I've developed a new passion for learning, and an even greater passion for contributing and helping the community. I want to contribute to Eclipse with the promise of activity and an open mind, filled with good ideas. Like most others online, I'm a gamer, I'm passionate about a lot of things and I've experienced quite a lot and have plenty of great stories. I can help those who feel troubled, and I'll always be here to lend a helping hand if I can, regardless of if I'm accepted or not. Overall, I think it would be a great experience for everyone. Other: I understand reading applications such as this without much eye candy can be a tedious task, however I'm hoping you'll excuse the bricks of text and lack of spice as I'm hoping it's the quality of what I said that would be the deciding factor. Thanks for your time and the chance!

Why do you want to join Eclipse:

Groups I like to mainly join, as you can see from my group history, are groups that have a common ideal or goal behind it. Ones like Techsperts, The RATs Crew, 143 - I enjoyed my time in them because we had one purpose - to help others in need, to help others in the group, and to help everyone in general. I actively participated in group projects, made tutorials in the name of them, and stayed active in the subgroup forum. I have spent a lot of time in many groups - and I can safely say when I join a group, I intend to stay active and make a difference. I'd like to do that with Eclipse. I can see that the group is about sharing knowledge within the group itself, and Hack Forums as well. I'll gladly do such a thing - because helping others have always been what I like to do.

Why do you want to join Eclipse:Eclipse has been one of the best groups I've ever been apart of, I enjoyed the whole family type of group and everyone was/is just so social towards each other. I do really miss this, I previously gave up my spot because I myself had the idea I was too inactive. Right now I have more time on my hands to be active within the sub-forum, this is why I would want to join again.

Why should we invite you to the group:I think I can once more be a valuable member like I used to be. Contributing where I can and joining or starting multiple discussions and conversations. I believe I now have enough time to be active in the sub-forum and contribute frequently.

Why do you want to join Eclipse:Been lurking around Hackforums for a couple years now and it pains me to see some of the ignorance and corruption that happens here. Never had enough dedication or 'rep' to actively make a point across the young hackers or programmers. Joining this groups gives me a small edge over that hump and have no issue helping out anyone. My goal is to give the help to others that I wish could have been there for me.

Why should we invite you to the group:I bring a fair amount of knowledge to the table, lots of resources, and love helping other people. With the little bit of free time I have, talking to other people, working on projects and tutorials, or sharing life experiences and just fucking around sounds cool. I have not been very active lately mostly due to lack of care and Army training, but now most of weekends get dedicated to my own studies and projects online; might as well get back into this site.

None Why do you want to join Eclipse:I'm looking for a group to be a part where I can learn from them, and they can learn from me. My whole time on HF has been an amazing experience, but I'm missing out being a part of a group where I can enjoy some time playing games, discussing controversial topics, talk relationships, etc.

Why should we invite you to the group:What I bring is experience. Being 22 years old probably means nothing, but it goes to show that I've wandered and pondered the Earth longer than most people. I've also learned more about myself a result, and I wish to bring my experience to the table an guide people towards a path that is ultimately set for them. We've all been through some sort of turmoil and tragedy, but sometimes, we waver from that path, and lose sight of our goals. I can bring value by being the most honest, but understanding personality that ultimately will be nothing short of great.

Why do you want to join Eclipse:I've really been enjoying my time here, ive slowly fell in love and now I have to visit multiple times a day and sometimes just find myself sat here for hours reading threads etc and learning new things, i've recently started to get involved in as many communities as i can, i mainly feel like joining eclipse will make me enjoy my time here even more than i already do,

Why should we invite you to the group:I'm a very keen graphic designer, I can make thread designs etx but I really shine when it comes to Twitter Header and Youtube banners, especially professional designs, I'd be a great asset, especially for people starting a business, id be more than happy to provide graphics for all social medias.

Why do you want to join Eclipse:I enjoy meeting and doing business with key players in the HackForums community to share what I know, and so I can learn from them. I prefer projects that go beyond what is preferable for the HF marketplace as well, but I also enjoy completing services for users here on HF and Skype/Discord. I like to think big, make money, and always come out with entrepreneurial ideas. I do a lot of work with APIs, so many of my projects are content based which is perfect for profitable niche websites. I have spent years consulting multiple projects and companies based on the internet, and have also completed design work for many. I have been coding with PHP, HTML, CSS, and some JS for a while now. I also mess around with databases, but mostly for actual data storage as opposed to injection. I like making thousands of dollars with whitehat projects, but also less white ideas too. The most recent thing I started selling is my e-whoring eBook. I have never e-whored, but I found a unique way of finding HQ sets. I was making a porn site for a user, and using existing sites to aggregate the content. The site was nice, and I fetched quite the price for my work. The eBook is about a topic which I don't even fully condone, but it's a whitehat eBook because it's not illegal for a user to find unsaturated sets. My point is this: I like to spread my interests far and wide. I always strive to improve my resume, both in real life and online. Soon I will be releasing an eBook that shares how I got millions of views on my YouTube channel without purchasing any views, likes, subs, comments, or anything. I've made thousands upon thousands from my channel, and I can't wait to release my eBook. I plan to share my knowledge and experience in many avenues of revenue with friends and buyers here on HF. I have a diverse repertoire, and I am confident I can continue to help countless users here on HF - whether I'm in Eclipse, or not.

Why should we invite you to the group: Through my travels around the world, and vast experience on the internet, I truly believe I can help members in Eclipse, while also benefiting from the colossal amount of wisdom and knowledge that your members hold.

Why do you want to join Eclipse: I'm particularly interested in having closer discussion with other HF members. I believe building trustworthy bonds is both healthy, and good for possible business, since it's always nice to have others you can really trust. I do quite a bit of dealings on HF and am looking for reliable people I can deal with, but not only that, I want to build friendships with the other members of the group over time.

Why should we invite you to the group: I can offer my skills listed above to you free of charge. I can offer my advice and expertise to the others in the group if they ever need them.
