that "scroll down" arrow looks more stretched than your moms pussai. Looks decent otherwise, too bad it's WP.

Hello,

Thanks for your comment, it was the client's choice to use wordpress for their website.

Overall it looks pretty nice. I think it would look better if you couldn't see that bottom bar for the video at the top, so that it was just playing in the background by itself and you have no control over it. Also the text is somewhat small for some of the sections, but that's more nit-picky than anything.
