Can I load in direct combos I just want to check. Or do I have to do email separate and pass separate, cause combo would be faster

Currently we only support an email list / password list to make it simple to use (as well as targeting specific accounts), although we'll be sure to add the combo option in the future!

Depends on many factors, (proxies, connection speed, threads etc), what do you mean by private emails?

Do you provide a private password or email list?

I'd like to do this on turkish emails. Is there support for such request?

Hello,

Interested in this. So, will it only crack accounts which have dictionary word passwords or it can crack accounts with complex passwords as well. Let's say I want hack someone's email. I know his email id but don't know his password. But I'm sure it is complex and not a dictionary word. By complex I mean he has some word with capital alphabets, numbers and special characters as well. Will it still be able to hack it?

Please do let me know.

Thanking you

It all depends on the password list here.

The bigger the password list is the more are the chances that you are able to crack it pretty much. ?

Nobody has bought this and given a real review about it yet.

All I read about are vouches. I need to read a review of this product from user who have tried it before I can consider buying.

People have bought this but it's not really up to me if they want to leave a review regarding it. Would be nice to see some reviews of it indeed, I agree.

But I can't force them to leave a review if they don't want to, it's all up to them.

Suspect. - March 18, 2017, 5:06 pm

Might give it a Try then leave a review for others to Know if it's worth buying On a nonbiased approach
