Hii

I'm writing from another account because the account that I can I not enter with out this error "Bad 2-Factor Authentication code. Press back in your browser and try again"

Gauth in my account I have not activated forget your password try to do had it still is the tool.
this is my other account I have the facts that I am one of the account owner.

hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=1417205

it is likely that my account again not to have to be more accountable in other forum

You are not matching IP with that account. Are you able to make that happen?

If not, I would recommend you to use the Contact Us page. Include your IP, and any other way to prove that the account is yours.

Good luck.

IP does not match. Your account will most likely not be recovered.
