Wtf a $17 lifetime crypter??? this shit must be raped dry. (not sales thrashing just opinion).

Although if this crypter is fud like legit please let me know. And just a zscan or pscan picture isnt gonna cut it i need real proof like chk4run.

Also the fact that in the main page of the thread it says 0/35 detection but the link to pscan shows 3/35 detection. <-- which still is pretty good for $17 lifetime crypter.

but the second thing thats trippy is that he says stub size is ~600kb but on pscan it shows up as :
File size : 2280kb... lol?

Oh okay!

Tried crypting my RAT and then opening it. Windows responded with this: This application couldnt be started Nevermind, just had to change it to net 2, from self inject.

What settings can i keep on luminosity?

Just bought this crypter. I will give it a review after a couple days of use.

Rock-alber - June 30, 2017, 11:15 am my crypter isn't working i dont know why when i build file . output file is 0 byte

i baught it on Saturday still i didn't use it

Kawish - July 1, 2017, 12:44 am

Its been more than two weeks since I purchased the crypter and still can't figure out how to make the crypter work. A lot of errors, crypted file is not working no matter what RAT I use, tried all the different settings, asked the owner for help, he tried to solve the issue but couldn't. Every time I ask him for help he sends me the new crypter with update and blah blah blah.... Now the crypter is saying invalid license, I don't know whats wrong with this crypter.

I have been using other crypters in past without any problem, I even didn't contact any owner for support because all of them were working perfect without any issues. I am really frustrated after buying this crypter, and would like to get a refund because it wasted my time and money.

ciNGi? - July 2, 2017, 8:42 pm

Here is my review on this crypter, I have used it for 4 days now.

Usability and Function - 4/5

The crypter is really easy to navigate and all the options are directly in front of you. There are no tabs or pages in the program for other options so you won't miss any options that you need. I give this a 4/5 for not offering the option of a Binder included, but it would be a plus. There was a small bug in the opening window to put in a key where you can resize the program, but that is purely aesthetic.

Updates & FUD 3/5

This crypter is not completely FUD. I received an update and it was 1/40 via www.nosharescanner.com. I do believe that the options that you choose within the program directly effect this.

Overall Score & Final Notes 3/5

I see potential for improvement in this program and the dev does know his stuff, but needs to constantly push out updates at the max of three days. If I had any advice for the developer, it would be to give a guide on how to access fully FUD files with the different rats that are out there. I personally use Luminosity.

At the time of this post, it is currently 11/40

Vouch for JanaDark pretty nice Crypter for really cheap price. Everything works great, bought it and in the matter of minutes activated everything. It is Scantime on most of the AV's and Runtime on some of them also, developer updates is pretty frequently. If you want something pretty decent I would recommend this 100% .

oneghost - July 22, 2017, 12:54 pm

Hmmm.... I didn't manage to crypt any file with this , totally waste of money even if I bought the lifetime package, the files are never FUD always get removed by my internal antivirus.

I mention the fact that while crypting process nod32 is disabled after I enable the protection , will be enough to enter into that folder and the file will be removed...

this is my experience with it... if anybody manage otherwise probably they're lucky!

Morrigan, I can't Pm atm, but I can advise.

I support Jana 10/10. As I also support Cyber Seal 10/10.

They serve different roles for different scopes of application.

Jana is the "buy it and forget it" "go to" crypter, with an emphasis on quick/fast jobs, at a price point that 1 hour of blood plasma donation could pay for. (or 2 hours yard work.)

Point: Jana is ideal for "get in, get out" circumstances where you only require FUD /UD for 1-3/4 days, to work on a clients PC, and then bounce.

Depending on what your doing, mining, this would be less ideal, Password uptake, ideal. Ransomware... perfect.(as proof of concept).

Cyber/Data Protector are more premium, for longer FUDs, simply.

However, if you exclusively need access for 1-3 days, Jana is probably the best one. As it will provide the most streamlined user experience, at the most affordable and long-lasting price..

Also remember however, that Janas stub, for the + benefits listed above, has a wide user base, meaning a quicker frequency of detections.

So, if your targeting a small sample of individuals, for a few days, Jana is 10/10.

If your trying to amass a 1000+ XMR mining botnet... probably Topher/Cyber/Data.

Gl mate. Best. ?

Liliaan - December 15, 2017, 8:56 am

Do not buy this, bullshit, and not anymore working, no answers on skype till 6th december. BE CARE.

Liliaan - December 26, 2017, 3:45 am

Refund me, or help me, or i'll trash you all the way, i didn't pay for something isnt working.

Liliaan - December 30, 2017, 3:49 pm

Do something, ban this guy ffs

kpecno - February 14, 2018, 8:38 am

Vouch for this guy,i know him for long time ago,and i can really say is one of the best coder

Akara Products - March 9, 2018, 4:29 pm

Bad crypter. I bought it some time ago. 12 detections, the coder is not friendly at all on skype etc. Gave me bad reputation for saying the truth.

DO NOT BUY. There are better crypters out there.
