- Cactus Green: Cooked Peyote
- Wheat: Weed
- Red Mushrooms: Shrooms
- Brown Mushrooms: Shrooms
- Netherwart: Ecstasy
- Cocoa Beans: Heroin

What exactly is a drug server?

A drug server is essentially a SMP survival server, only with a bit of a twist added. The main method of gaining money, higher ranks, and better tools is by creating a base and drug farm to sell to the local market and other players. While it may sound relatively easy, you have fierce competition. Other players will try to raid, grief your farms, and steal your product that you grew and harvested, so always keep an eye out! In addition to that, the police will frisk you, confiscate any illegal substances if found, and punish you by giving you a jail sentence. The police may also raid farms directly, and will act on tips from other players in exchange for some money so be cautious of who you invite to join your operation! As you advance through higher and more prestigious ranks you gain access to more profitable shops, perks and more profitable shops.

Beginners Guide:

When you first join the server you will start off as a Druggie. You will spawn in a town spawn which is set out in a large square. Remember to look around the spawn before you venture out to build your illegal drug farm as it is important to know where everything is. Once you're out of the spawn by doing /wild, you can use /kit starter to give yourself a small variety of drugs and essentials to get you started. Remember to not use the starter kit command inside the spawn as you may be frisked by the police and lose your starting drugs/essentials. If you have any questions once you have joined, do not hesitate to ask our friendly community in the

Over 4 months of building and development went into the server. A lot of HF players were beta testers, finding issues before the public launch.

Thanks for the kind words :)

Glad to see another drug server around. I thought these died out a while back, but good luck.

Unkn0wnUs3r - March 4, 2017, 10:40 am

There are still a few popular ones out there. Thanks

Unkn0wnUs3r - March 12, 2017, 4:10 am

Bump. We're looking a helper!

Toby - March 14, 2017, 12:25 pm

Tobyisback on the server rn

After ditching Minecraft for quite some time, this server & the people on it have allowed me to experience the fun I once had on this game some time ago, I'll continue to play and make my incognito auto-farms better once I figure out what works and what doesn't.

Currently enjoying the rush that I could be raided at any time, not really going through a whole lot of effort to hide my base due to the fact I have absolutely no idea how the wild works. But, I keep hunting hoping I'm going to find that one unlucky guy that tried to hide and slipped up in one way or another.

I've also only seen two cops on, so running my stuff has been rather easy. Hoping that will change soon though. ?
