Dispaced's NOOBS Guide To CPA / Resources / Guides / Getting Started / FREE and Investment

Welcome to my thread, you are either here because you want to start CPA or your here to view a collection of resources. Either or this thread is here to help you. In this thread i am going to link and compile the useful threads of HF into one for all your needs so it can hopefully reduce the amount of noobs asking for help. Remember you don't need money to start!! I started CPA with nothing and Im managing $2 a day after 2 weeks and currently trying to increase to $5 with some more effort.

How To Get Accepted By An Affiliate Network

Before you start CPA you need to have an idea of what you can do this can be very brief and be something like i want to promote a website with a content locker. You need to state that you are motivated to achieve. I didn't really know what i was going to do I just said that was motivated and got accepted. Once you have this brief idea you can apply to a CPA network. Different networks suit different things OGAds, CPABuild and AdWorkMedia are examples of good ones. I am with AdWorkMedia.
