oRequiem - February 14, 2017, 5:26 pm

Usually you'd see something with how far he's been going. Plus it looks like he has a helmet on with a GoPro (the camera we're watching from). Maybe he's headed home from the track and is being a douche?

???? - February 14, 2017, 5:32 pm

Corver - February 14, 2017, 5:50 pm

I've done something similar to this in my infiniti, but not to this degree. I've only pushed 120 on my car... And that was at night with no one else on the road.

Dropcarve - February 14, 2017, 5:53 pm

This motherfucker is out oh my god....

Go get an Escort 8500 X50 Black edition radar detector on ebay and find a nice stretch of road you're familiar with and max that mofo out. You'll be hooked then if you aren't now.

Its a G35. But I've got hella mods on it. Intake, Exhaust, Coilovers, couple other bells and whistles too ?

?O?? - February 14, 2017, 6:19 pm

Not cool endangering other people. I hope this person ends up flying through the windshield and splattering on the pavement.

VQ35DE or HR? I had an HR Z with intake and some Michelin Pilot SS and I hit the 153mph stock speed limiter. If yours is manual you could probably get there quicker than the 5at.

Biker BoyZ - February 14, 2017, 7:16 pm

He not chased by police lol. Number plate would of been taken ezz. you can't run away from them. been a douche and putting people in danger

Formidable - February 14, 2017, 7:21 pm

That was amazing, wish I can drive like that. Kudos to him.

To all the sissys "HE COULD HAVE CRASHED! MY MOM COULD HAVE BEEN IN THAT CRASH!!!"

I've got the DE, i was one year too early for the HR. And its Automatic with a Manual stick option as well :) As for tires, I've still got some basic tires on it.

Yeah, but there's also a high probability that he'll kill an innocent motorist or family.

Exactly, driving like this is a much faster version of a game of chess. Ive only been to 120, but its exhilarating nonetheless
