Ninja 250R?

p sure that's the model

anyways yeah I actually wanted one of those while I was a freshman/sophomore :u
I'll probably end up getting something like that once I'm out of college, but I'd need a starter bike.

I remember someone at a motorcycle shop mentioned that a KTM RC390 is a rly nice starter.

My question wasn't about him investing back into it. I'm asking him what if he's investing into an actual legit business with customers. I see this as short term. With the amount he's making he can invest in something that can make him millions.

He quoted himself earlier.

He makes guap with roblox.

Mans slinging robux at a faction of the price ROBLOX is selling for... and that robux is addicting so best believe kids come around to get their hit of R$

It's like selling RuneScape money, only now its ROBLOX money, with lots of kids playing, that have their mom's credit cards. (and roblox is high key popping right now, breaking records with the millions of players that play)
