Thread: Rate my new Low Poly Art!

C?rrupt - February 15, 2017, 11:37 am

Hey guys! Since I got so much positive feedback from my last low poly creation, I spent some time making some cool little profile pictures

Lion:

Wolf:

Both of these are free to use for any of your projects!

Hoping to get some feedback on how they look!

EDIT: I USED ILLUSTRATOR AND PHOTOSHOP TO CREATE ALL MY LOW POLY ART.

That lion looks epic. How long did it take you to make that? Can you do a giraffe?

Looks really good, do you work with a grid?

Yeah, it makes things a lot easier to snap and stuff, but I always start with a source picture and trace.

Ah okay, and how do you do the colors? Looks like you've used a gradient in some spots, so do you do them manually?

Yes, all gradients are done manually, it's the most tedious part.

Bro that is sick. I love it!

It's very "desert-ly". I see the desert in the face and two blue birds on the ears.
