Thread: Photoshop vs Sketch

GabrielAtanasov - February 18, 2017, 6:42 am

Hello all,

Im working as web designer (UX / UI). As a web designer i and other designer need fast tool, which didn't crash, smaller file sizes, and easy program UI for maximum fast work on projects.

Currently I use Photoshop, because i have windows laptop and i cant buy / install Sketch. But recently I start watching sketch tutorials and videos, and I really like it. Now i wonder if i but MacBook and Sketch.

Is there any designers here who use Sketch and what are yours opinion?

[BTW] If possible someone gave me +rep, because i want to post in marketplace.

You are going to get a lot of shit and negs if you keep that last line in, just saying. I'd advise you don't ask for rep, because it is against the rules, and take your last line out.

As for your question, I personally have not used sketch, but I know that Photoshop actually handles better, with less crashes/bugs, on Mac OS than on Windows anyhow.

I was also looking into this, I was also conflicted between Photoshop / Illustrator / Something else, but I downloaded Adobe Experience Design, it's free right now since it's in Beta. You should try that out.
