Thread: Anime like garden of words?

I've never really been too interested in anime however I recently watched this 45 minute movie called garden of words and I thought the production quality was just so detailed and all the sounds and everything.

I was just wonder if anyone knew any similar anime's?

I would urge you to watch all the works of Makoto Shinkai - after creating the Garden of Words he obviously made Kimi no Na wa, but before that he also made The Children Who Chase Lost Voices and Five Centimetres Per Second most notably. So watch Kimi no Na wa and Five Centimetres Per Second in my opinion.

You got me here because I love talking about this movie, but seriously you filthy piece of shit - go fuck yourself; I wish Omni would do more on this website about scum like you

He also created a new film recently called Your Name.
