Thread: MariaDB SQL Updated

Omniscient - February 20, 2017, 12:29 pm

I just upgraded the MariaDB to latest version. It wouldn't build properly so it took over an hour and during that time I turned off the forum. Appears to be working well right now. Hopefully no issues will arise.

Trying to keep us updated and secure.

Thanks guys.

da dude who works all da time working it hard dat time doe

Lor?d - February 20, 2017, 12:32 pm

Awesome!

I was so bored without HF. It made me realize how sad I am ._.

Regulus - February 20, 2017, 12:35 pm

Thanks a lot for letting us know.

Take care :)

Just out of curiosity, how big is the database?

Armada - February 20, 2017, 12:35 pm

Was wondering what was going on when I saw the forum message.

Thanks for updating.

Do you plan to upgrade mybb in the near future? I don't know if you already started the process (testing your scripts etc) , just asking.

Princeton - February 20, 2017, 12:49 pm

Thank you for keeping us updated.

Would love to know this too.

Depending on the pruning it's usually over 30GB. It can go up to 35GB. I do my best to keep it reasonable.

I would not say "near future" but I will at some point have no choice. It's going to wreck the site and cause me a month of intense work. Not something I look forward to.

I wondered what was going on. When either one of the services crashes, I don't find it odd it takes a while to get it back up. Still though, the downtime wasn't that bad.

I was wondering what was going on I thought possibly their was another security breach as I saw a post on leakforums of someone offering hackforums 2017 database but thankfully that wasn't the case aha <3

Sounds head wrecking I remember when I skipped an upgrade and when the second update came out and I finally upgraded it screwed up my forum severely. Can't imagine how much damage it will do to HF.

Patzan - February 20, 2017, 2:50 pm

Keep up the good and important work, Omni.

There are quite a few knowledgeable fellas on here that would probably be more than happy to help if you gave them the opportunity, the community will support you whenever you decide to upgrade ;D

Thanks for the update :)

Damn that sucks so bad.

Hopefully this won't happen any time soon.

Thanks for the update Omni.

Thanks for everything over the years.

Omniscient - February 21, 2017, 11:38 am

Looks like DB is running fine. If only Apache would STFU now. :(
