W?lr?? - February 22, 2017, 10:18 am

Hey, just posting this because I bet someone will find a good way to make some cash off this by buying something and reselling it. Right now amazon is giving off $8.63 every purchase of $50 or more... Let me know if you make any money off this. They are basically giving away free money, so take this opportunity now and buy a ton of things and resell!

Why are they doing this?

Is it for everyone?

They got awarded #1 in corporate reputation, so I am just guessing they are trying to spread awareness for that with this. The $8.625 number that they calculated is probably just some number that some people in statistics figured out would not loose out on too profit.

The item needs to be sold by Amazon, not just fulfilled.

It won't work on digital giftcards or digital/physical games.

Use code "bigthanks" at checkout.

There are a lot of physical gift cards sold by Amazon that work.

Shame I don't need anything today otherwise I'd be taking advantage of this. Very good promotion.
