Thread: My website moved from page 1 to page 6

Apocryphon - February 22, 2017, 1:54 pm

So today out of nowhere one of my websites was deranked from page 1 to page 6 on Google SERPS.

Do you think it's just a bounce and it will return few days later?

As far as I'm concerned there weren't any major updates in the past 24 hours and the website is whitehat seo optimized.

Edit:

So Google Webmasters shows me this

Kinda not since the page is affiliate marketing related, I'll try to remove some of the content and send them a reconsideration request.

They use 'thin content' as a default reason. Is it a CPA LP or anything blackhat (game hacks etc.)?

Backlinks are also important for a domain too, look at this link <https://goo.gl/AEyNes> to get free backlinks for your site..

There are articles with a call to action button leading to the landing page with content locker on it.
