P3TER P4RKER - February 25, 2017, 1:28 am

So my buddy comes across this <http://enchancedaim.com/forum/> . If I remember right Cyrus said he was done after CSS. Is this a scam? I feel like it is.

zohanhacks - February 25, 2017, 1:30 am

enchancedaim not scam

enCHANedaim scam

P3TER P4RKER - February 25, 2017, 1:33 am

I just find it odd after the domain was sold (so I was told) that Cyrus would come back and sell a ESEA proof cheat? I dont even.

You're not reading.

The website you linked is enChancedaim

The original website was enchancedaim
the website you linked is a scam, lol.

Every time somebody brings up that scam site I just get mind fucked over the fact nobody ever actually reads domain names of the websites they visit. Phishers must seriously rake in some major cash.

To be fair it's hard to notice if you're just glancing. They also went to a lot of trouble to make the forum look active and real.

They really did. The thing that really tipped me off (besides the fact I couldn't read the domain name right) Was Cyrus hasnt changed "His" profile pic since the CSS days and says hes a dev now instead of owner. And cyrus hasnt coded a thing in his life. But im a moron for not seeing the name after the first guy said it but to be fair my eye site is horid.

They really put in alot of time i wouldnt even notice if i wasnt careful enough lol

And tristan once more i have to agree phishers probs make thousands

A little search goes a long way :) It is indeed a scam, do not send them anything.

Such a bad scam attempt.

If you want a good csgo cheat go with Chod, if I recall correctly so was he an coder at enhancedaim but then quit to start his own

Menalix - February 25, 2017, 5:04 pm

Just visit the real domain: <http://enhancedaim.com/>
and it should be obvious it's a scam.

Imao i wonder how many retards actually fell for it ..

Invexination - February 26, 2017, 12:37 am

Tfw is owned by edgy russians just like every other scam site.
Steam Support -> <http://steamcommunity.com/id/EnhancedAimCyrus/>
Previous Name -> twitch.tv/keybodecs
Twitch acc is some edgy russian streamer.

Doesn't surprise me why they do it when people are incapable of even reading a domain properly. No surprise they make money off of it.

THIS KILLED ME LMAOOOO

I'm so curious how many people fall for this.

This shit looks just like the aimcore.eu scam (aimcore.eu website is down), many people online all the time, ko1N as "Legendary Developer" and using other peoples videos.

Mad respect to you for including other providers in the site and not just putting Hexui first. Takes someone with character to do that!

Enhanced Aim is not back, but an invasion of C+P external P2C's is happening
