Thread: Omni do you like to watch HF members get scammed?

UltraBear - February 25, 2017, 5:44 am

I mean, you know the ebook market is making thousands of dollars a day scamming innocent people on HF.

You don't get involved in deal disputes and they trade rep all the time.

If you cared about HF users surely you'd get rid of the ebook market or at least put some restrictions on "money making ebooks" and "gambling ebooks"

?now - February 25, 2017, 5:46 am

Well we all know who is a little salty about a ebook they bought

Yeah no shit

Cammy - February 25, 2017, 5:51 am contrary to popular belief there are actually some legitimate products available

All members are to deal at their own risk

JaGLY - February 25, 2017, 5:51 am

If you buy a moneymakers ebook you deserve to get scammed.
This is a place for smart people not for lazy people.

Then why doesn't Omni ban them?

oh wait... gives him $$$

not in the following categories:

- money making ebooks
- free clothes ebooks

- gambling ebooks
- free giftcard ebooks

There's been too many threads like this, most probably he'll purge it some day.

Though in the welcome PM, he clearly says that HF doesn't get involved in marketplace. So he cared already when you joined.

But you didn't care to read.

You clearly haven't read the rules.

I assume you'll be banned for complaining over and over again about "scammers" while it's your own responsibility to check what you're going to buy and the reviews of it upfront.

Don't blame the Administrator for your own mistakes, that's just bullshit.

Enjoy your time.

it's not like he doesn't ban and restrict other products so this isn't valid.

He could easily make it policy and stop fucking morons such as: MattGates and H3God

Tell me more about how sad your life is, I'd love to hear it.

Edited:

Why the F*CK would Omniscient check every single eBook for "credible" content, while HF is FULL of scamming members who aren't banned yet.

Why is this??? Because of the f*cking first rule of the market place:

"Rules for the Marketplace

Hackforums will not be held responsible for deals made by members."

If you can't even accept the first rule of the Marketplace, then why bother with activity there?

No, but he is allowing it happen.

Maybe he doesn't get involved in the market, but he certainly regulates it. But he won't, because he wants the $$$ from sales tags no put if he regulated them he'd stop 100s of new members and those who are not familiar about these scams.

He isn't allowing it, he is just busy RUNNING this forum.

Let's say 10K members are buying / selling eBooks & methods here, does that mean that Omniscient should check every single sale? No.

Stop crying kid, you're just seeking attention.

you clearly are retarded.

He could ban MONEY MAKING EBOOKS which are scams 99.99% of the time....

Can you debunk my accusing statements without trying to offend me? It's pretty childish.

I do not scam users, if you read the eWhore Mentor Service vouches, you'd see that they are all satisfied about my service.

I do not share knowledge which is here for "free". I give lessons which are suitable for every user, due to my questions upfront which I ask to deliver the best service possible.

The forum isn't here only for educational purposes. It's a business - we all know that.

<https://twitter.com/HackForumsNet/status/4484432452> 2009.

I would allow it myself too. He's warning everyone so it's fine.

Without the marketplace a lot of the activity would go down.

Reporter - February 25, 2017, 6:08 am

OMNI has wrote himself that if you ask him if you should do a deal or not so will he reply no, (I saw him replied to a thread of a user being scammed).

Not sure if you know. But every mentorship is always with public knowledge. It's just a service to get you started. Can you become good in maths without a teacher? Yes sure, if you have enough time to find things out for your self. But with a teacher (aka mentor) it will be a lot easier.
you clearly are retarded.

Why should he ban money making ebooks? I can almost guarantee you that every one of them will make you money. Probably not a a much as advertised. But you will make money with it.

To me you just sound like a salty little kid. [/b]

P.S.

I don't warn members because I like it, I warn members with a reason.

You're lucky that you got at least a +3 from a sketchy member before you got banned, so you accomplished at least something.

@All,

Please don't follow OP's path of "complains" and "insults", because the results are clear.

We should protect each other, not flame and harass.

SoulZeh - February 25, 2017, 9:17 am

So it's Omniscient job to sit and baby sit fucking morons for buying eBooks? Interesting, As if he wants to look after morons.

When Amazon bans money making books maybe I will too. I like how Trump has one, that's pretty funny. I'm pretty sure that no one has ever gotten rich by following someone else's guide to getting rich. Just doesn't work that way.

Quote:No, but he is allowing it happen.

Yes, yes I am. Because I think it's funny that people actually buy shitty ebooks here. I'm not here to protect stupid people. Deals are clearly at your own risk.

Quote:<https://twitter.com/HackForumsNet/status/4484432452>

I think that happened when my Twitter account was stolen. Not sure I even noticed the Tweet. I just removed it.

I know Ebooks here are controversial. Never bought one myself, never even downloaded one to view. Far as I know the existing ebooks being sold don't violate HF policy. I am certainly not going to vet/vouch/review them. The Ebook Reviewers team is gone but realistically I don't believe they truly increased the quality or value of Ebooks sold here.

It is what it is...

Quote:Omni do you like to watch HF members get scammed?

Making a dumb purchase is not getting scammed. And the answer is NO, I don't like to watch HF members get scammed. I actually spend a great deal of my time trying to come up with ways to thwart and catch scammers and give members the best tools I can to avoid scams.

So OP, you can now enjoy your CLOSED account. Peace out.

(ugh, first post of the day, not a good way to start)
