Thread: Working on a Python project together

Ensky - February 26, 2017, 2:24 am

If anyone wants to start a small Discord group where we discuss Python only, and work on medium - large projects together, shoot me a PM.

Just joined the server, I am kind of a beginner though but I'll try to contribute where I can

I wish there was one for non-beginners. As plenty of people here can attest, I'm happy to help anyone who asks me about 80% of the time, but sometimes you just want to work on something with someone and not have to explain why you do every little thing in your code.

I understand what you mean, it's a mix really. Each person in the discord right now has a different skill level.
