whateverittakes111 - February 28, 2017, 4:34 am

Thats incredible lucky. Like, theres such a tiny chance that a sugar daddy / target would have bitcoins or know about them, versus like PayPal. Congrats

Doesn't matter, it's up to you to milk any guy with money, as long as he's an adult.
Knowing his age / profession won't make it easier for you to get $500 BTC.

@OP:

Nice job, well done!

I had 1 italian guy who spent royal money at me ($1100 in 1 month) and he didn't care either.
Paid in BTC, AGC and PayPal, so yes... it's not all about traffic, but it's as important as your SE skills (what I experienced) haha.

Take care & enjoy the BTC :)

Brother, I have not just stepped out the womb.

Do you not think if I've managed 500+ that I didn't think I'd get more or try?

Finding he had bitcoin was just sheer luck

Ok, I understand you can't give up you magic wand.

To clarify my demand, I am new into this whole world of cybersec and hacking and but working on it on a daily basis and loving it :)

As you might have seen I am also very new on HF and I am opening every threat I can to read and ask questions. The other day I came across one thread about ewhoring and it caught my eye. So I am trying to get a better picture of it, and I'd really enjoy getting some infos about a real case from someone that has this knowledge. For instance I don't clearly know how one gets around the law with it, is it for instance possible to do it without crossing the line?

Apart from general questions like that one, I was just curious about the social engineering part of the job, which method one uses to get to money and so on.

Anything you could tell would be valuable I guess, I'm just super curious
