Thread: You should enjoy your time on Earth while Earth still exists

NuclearPenguin - February 28, 2017, 2:23 pm

Many of my fellow humans believe that we live in a stable Universe. This is quite simply not true. The Universe is very chaotic and doesn't care about our existence. A false vacuum could occur and destroy everything within the Universe. A random, unstoppable Gamma Ray Burst could be heading towards Earth and destroy us in less than a second . So don't be scared of trying new things because you'll never know when the Universe will inevitably destroy us all

Thank you for the words of motivation, life is too short to be wasting time on heartbreaks and stress.

The 100 is amazing, not sure if it's over or if more are coming.

Okay, we don't need to worry about the sun burst. We're all just going to end up killing each other with all the nuclear confrontation with Iran, North Korea.

UglyMeister - February 28, 2017, 3:40 pm

Gotta get wasted tonight, world's ending soon...
