User lying about recieving agc

user recieving card

asked for card email of card I sentHim accepting the card and saying thanks and me giving him a vouch for it

promising he would fix it if his account does not cloes

promised to give me my money after I screenshot convo part1

gave him what he asked still holds my money

I need this fixed and I would like to revoke the vouch I gave to him on his forum

Horrible service just nothing but lies.

Ohh and his account is currently working and he has the money. He has stated so here on hf

Reeces - March 1, 2017, 8:56 am

The gift card was carded. You lied about having a verified PayPal and everything.

He asked you before the deal was made asking if your PayPal was verified. You lied. You have a fake site on it and it's not verified. Chances area his Amazon account will get banned for using the card you sold him so obviously he charged back.

jayslu123 - March 1, 2017, 8:59 am

It is not carded that is bullshit i can and have gave proofs to him showing it was ewhored.. he offered me bitcoin aswell why would i accept paypal if i carded it?

I didnt card it it was ewhored and this is bs

Proof I owned websites and they arent open any more:

my websites cancelled

proof that I am the admin of mrbrute which is the website that was connected to my paypal.

Pain - March 1, 2017, 9:01 am

I read everything, he should cancel the dispute as yu provided all the info.

I do get his reason, but he is at fault

jayslu123 - March 1, 2017, 9:06 am

The whole problem with this whole thing is nothing was ever wrong with his account. (Amazon had a major outage) He jumped the gun and thought his account was messed up from this transaction.. It wasnt. Nothing is wrong with his account and now im stuck with my account screwed up... My Palpal is a verified account... This is wrong...

Knucklez. - March 1, 2017, 9:09 am

Has his item shipped yet? He should be good to go after that and cancel the dispute.

My Amazon account works just fine right now, I made an order today, and had 2 orders before I redeemed his AGC that were delivered.

Your PayPal was a business verified account:

Quote:Business Name:

Mrbrute (The recipient of this payment is Unverified)

Email:

killerky2013@gmail.com

And after I made the payment, I noticed your site didn't work anymore and you downgraded your PP account to unverified, anyone can check: unverified pp

Yes, I might be paranoid, but I don't want to feel sorry later. If you don't want to wait a few days, you can refund me and I will send you again $480. Since you escalated to a claim, I will have no protection if I close the claim.

Technically you are at fault here, however, if you can both agree that you wait until you get your item and all is well, then you send that money back to him/close the dispute.

OP provided the proper proof that he sent a non-carded AGC. You shouldn't have charged back man.

I hope you two can resolve this.

The Poseidon - March 2, 2017, 3:37 pm

Hahahahaha this is brilliant.

To anyone tuning in, this prick sold a carded gift card worth $600.00 to user 'debilu' and he has now chargebacked to get his money back because the gift card was carded or fraudulent.

EDIT - looks like the amazon account is up and running so I take what I just said back since I thought the previous dispute was on-going, I will also change my reputation I gave you back to neutral.

SIM-3386134 - March 2, 2017, 3:40 pm

A little backstory, OP appears to of sold AGC to debilu in the past without issue and for BTC. Now debilu purchased a $600 card for PayPal, the OP sent debilu his AGC, then debilu sent OP the PP, the AGC was redeemed and everything was fine. After the trade, debilu decided to file a chargeback prior to any issue with the card because he suspected it was "carded" when thats exactly what it is, a speculation. debilu is an idiot with respect, now he has absolutely zero cover if it does get revoked because once this chargeback has concluded thats that.

debilu is ASSUMING its carded, he has zero proof and to be honest he should of taken this whole chance into account before purchasing not after. He got what he paid for, and hes simply using this thread;

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5562431&pid=54235920#pid54235920>

As an excuse to scam the OP which IMO is wrong. debilu you need to release them funds.

Stay out of threads like these, its a place to discuss facts not speculation spazmoid.

Are you disabled?

You've already got negative reputation for your stupid responses so I've just updated that, read over the whole scenario and have changed my post as you can see where it says 'EDIT', you might want to look at your screen a little bit closer.

Also, as stated when I just left you some reputation - a disability is nothing to joke about.

Who tells you that the guy that paid you while ewhoring won't chargeback that gift card?

It might be chargebacked and might not, but debilu should post some proof if the AGC is chargebacked.

Its HackForums lad, reputation means something? Stop getting mad, when you're the one who sells carded shit, jumping on a thread spewing your aids when you literally have no idea about what the fuck you're talking about.

Walk on, go argue with a wall idiot.

I guess thats a risk you take and of course, if this was to happen the buyer would stand full rights of obtaining a refund but not before if that makes sense. You would open a CB AFTER not before, makes zero sense.

Please don't call me 'lad'.

I'm the one which sells carded shit? You young ones really do baffle me with responses you come up with, let me guess; this isn't your first account on this forum?

No shit, look lad stop playing the piper and stop trying to take the age high-ground like that means anything lmfao. The sad thing is, you come onto this thread, fail to even read the situation, give your backwards silly ass remarks then complain when you get called out over it.

More to the point, I call you disabled and you take the "ohh, waa hes calling me disabled, making fun of disabled people" right.. It sounds like you need to grow up, or you have some form of social defect that causes you to act with such spazmoidal tendencies.

The sad thing is, I am probably older than you not that it matters. The lesson you need to take from this is, I personally could not give a fuck about your forum status, your rep count or your registration date. I know that means a hell of a lot to you personally, but to others it means fuck all.

If you post sense, and act respectful I will respect you. Next time you even think about motioning towards that reply or quote button you remember 1 of 2 things. We are both nobodies, on an internet forum, arguing with each other over nothing and two, stop taking everything so personally, especially when you're wrong. Simply grow up.

Stop making everything about you, and keep this on topic.

damn dude, that was deep af

debilu - March 5, 2017, 1:20 pm

The item I ordered has been shipped, so I canceled the paypal claim, as I promised: canceled

It was never my intention to scam anyone. I'm a honest person, but in that day Amazon had a server failure, couldn't access my account so I was absolutely sure that the giftcard was carded and I lost my balance (~$1200). The seller told me his pp is a verified, but it was not. For anyone telling me that I'm a broke boy, cunt, etc because I didn't close the case earlier: from my amazon I obtained about $1400+ $480 pp, money that I would have lost out if that agc was stolen/carded.

It was a misunderstanding, but I think anyone would have acted like me. It's good everything has turned out satisfactorily. This is a lesson for me, I will accept only small denominations from now on. Thanks everyone!

jayslu123 - March 6, 2017, 1:38 am

Yes i received the money after days of waiting.

I also have a verified paypal so stop making accusations please you have made enough of them. You were in the wrong the entire time.. but I learn my lesson and will never do business with you again.

debilu - March 6, 2017, 3:23 pm

Ok, but let's be honest now, you took 80% for a $600 giftcard in a single transaction. I think that was a good deal.

Regarding your pp, anyone can check that it is unverified
