I'd love to get one of my personal self (If you can do that), you seem rather talented. People who draw are usually "unique" in my opinion, not a bad "unique" though.

Hopefully you'll have more customers in the near future.

Posting to enter.

In all honesty Kasper you are one unique artist that will grow big. Your work is both fascinating and brings in quality for such a affordable price, you are by far talented and will always keep you on my #1 GFX artists of all time.

My honest opinion on your work would be that its unique, doesn't look over created, and its very professional. Your designs i've seen so far are by far worth such an investment when it comes to business and cannot wait to see you expand.

Your work shows so much love, time, sweat, and passion which doesn't come around so easily and overall you are one of the best GFX people I have seen on HF for a long time. Continue such an amazing work and hopefully you grow bigger and better (you're already really good as is but overtime you'll get even better!). Thank you so much for this giveaway and hope all the best for you and your sales.
