wow, thats a lot of accounts that dont make any post. I am now curious on how many at least make a few post before becoming inactive. I also wonder(not saying you should) if its technically possible to bulk prune old closed accounts with less than 5 or so posts?

@Omniscient, can you come up with some sort of system that will let people keep their postcount? Like, do yerr pruning and such, but leave the postcount? Is that possible or nay?

That would be kinda hard because it goes off how many posts you got but how would it stay there if the posts were deleted?

(: hehe
