Seriously, the guy apologized, offered to help Omni and that neckbeard cuck still didn't give him mentor position back.. (that is after Adam was a contributing member since a long time ago)
it always seems Omni is just so unforgiving probably gonna get bad comments on this for his cult of 1337 followers but free speech & shit

Think of HF like its own country.

Nobody will agree with everything the leader of the country does.

However it's up to the citizens of that country to respect the decisions that the leader makes.

That's how it is on HF. You should not be saying those things about Omni.

Omni always has reasons for his decisions. I'm sure Adam appreciates the support, but don't please don't make him look bad by speaking on his behalf.
