Thread: View Self Posts

Omniscient - March 5, 2017, 12:19 pm

I was given a suggestion today.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5566991>

It was a good suggestion, I reviewed code, it was plausible, it was useful, it was immediately done.

Proof that I read suggestions and when they are within certain parameters they get implemented.

Oh...btw..instructions to use the feature:

Click the "Thread Options" at the top right and choose the "View Your Posts" option. Will display thread normally if you have no posts in the thread. If you do have posts then only your own will display.

Enjoy everyone. Thanks.

cASTL - March 5, 2017, 12:20 pm

Great addition. Thanks Omni!

Gustav. - March 5, 2017, 12:20 pm

Thanks for the update. Nice feature.

Charger - March 5, 2017, 12:20 pm

Woah... that was a quick turn around on a suggestion.

Lufasu - March 5, 2017, 12:21 pm

Well Thanks for bender who suggest that :D nice suggestion and it is useful for a lot of members! Thank you for adding this!

Charger - March 5, 2017, 12:21 pm

Do you think this could be extended to see posts in the thread where you are quoted?

Exquisite. - March 5, 2017, 12:22 pm

That's actually extremely nifty and useful. I will be sure to utilize it on large threads; thanks.

Hopsin - March 5, 2017, 12:22 pm

Nice feature mate. In case somebody still cannot locate it, here is a screenshot:

Have a nice day omniscient!

The Poseidon - March 5, 2017, 12:22 pm

What a nice addition and suggestion that was.

Thank you!

LastSession - March 5, 2017, 12:23 pm

It's really a great future Omni, but to do the same with posts of other members in a thread would be also pretty useful imo. If you search a username you only see the posts in which he got quoted.

Egregious Jr. - March 5, 2017, 12:24 pm

YES. My suggestion got implemented. Never thought that'd ever happen :)

Bluffer - March 5, 2017, 12:24 pm

Very nice! I was thinking of suggesting something like that as well and the thread history feature which you said you would consider.

Nice work Omni. Can't wait to see what else you have up your sleeve.

SoulZeh - March 5, 2017, 12:27 pm

This is handy, thanks for the update mate.

(Mar 5, 2017 01:21 PM)Charger Wrote: CITE Do you think this could be extended to see posts in the thread where you are quoted?

No, that's not going to be implemented. It would require more overhead because each posts would need to be parsed for the "quote=Username" posts. And then if a user changes their name the feature wouldn't work.

It's not my fault or my problem to fix how MyBB implemented their quote system. It's functional but it was never designed to be something for notifications. Unsure if they'll fix that in 2.0 but I don't think we'll ever use MyBB 2.0 on HF. We'll go to another software before we do that.

Imkasumidloke - March 5, 2017, 12:29 pm

Wow this is a great implementation. Thank you :)

Fortunate - March 5, 2017, 12:29 pm

Very useful feature Omni. Nice addition, thanks!

Nerdi - March 5, 2017, 12:29 pm

Perfect, thanks!

This is useful for times when I need to edit info about a product in my sales threads.

Ah, I see. I figured as much. Oh well, being able to see your own posts in a thread will definitely be of use especially on larger threads.

Anyway, keep up the good work. It's always nice to see new things added.

J?son - March 5, 2017, 12:33 pm

ugh finally i've been wanting something like this

Who Soup - March 5, 2017, 12:34 pm

Good suggestion, I was running into this issue as well last week.

I'm glad someone suggested it ?

Nachfolger - March 5, 2017, 12:36 pm

I should've suggested that.

GG omni we appreciate ya papabless

SIM-3247471 - March 5, 2017, 12:36 pm

I like this, in huge posts we don't have to go to loads of pages to find our own post.

M?xim - March 5, 2017, 12:37 pm

Woah great feature. Really useful.

Krave - March 5, 2017, 1:00 pm

Super useful to be honest. Thanks for this.

Omniscient - March 5, 2017, 1:11 pm

Fixed a bug with the "Posts: #" on the top right of each post. The bad news is that it doesn't give you the actual number of your post in the thread, but it will link properly to your post position in the thread if you click it. So not only can you view your posts in a thread easily but also go to your last post position very easily now too.

Nice addition, It would be nice if we could access the feature like so:

Then those numbers are clickable, showing each members posts on the thread

Would that mean the same for expanding it so you can enter in the UID of a specific user to filter his posts in that thread? Similar to how SYT (Search your threads) works with the userscript ? You just enter in their username and it'll search for their threads in that subforum.

Edit: Just saw your latest post. We can just add &uid=XX to the link. Sweet.

Kiyo - March 5, 2017, 1:49 pm

I was literally going to suggest this a week ago. I hate being insecure.

Done. Changed the mode to "single" since it now incorporates a UID input. If no UID input then it of course defaults to your own posts.

I just realized that for Staff/Mods this could be very helpful to split or junk a members posts without going through a number of pages.

Thanks, boss man.

SIM-2998667 - March 5, 2017, 2:28 pm

This is a sick implementation! Way easier to find your own posts in a single thread now. (Or other people's)

I can see why this would be very useful to staff members too.

Nice feature , it's the little things that make life easier.

VirtualFrost - March 5, 2017, 3:27 pm

That's awesome, I've had times where I wanted to find an old post I made in a thread but the search function wouldn't help if I was never quoted.

Leroy Jethro Gibbs - March 5, 2017, 3:31 pm

Omni, could you make it where you could do this for anyone? Like for instance, I could put 1 instead of my UID and see all of your post?

Grizzlies - March 5, 2017, 3:33 pm

Is it me or the page is broken when I click on it? [on mobile by the way]

mrnapolean1 - March 5, 2017, 3:56 pm
