Visual Freedom - April 7, 2017, 7:18 am

Can you give us information to speed and amount of grabbing?

FiftyTwo - April 7, 2017, 9:50 am

(Apr 7, 2017 07:18 AM)Visual Freedom Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Can you give us information to speed and amount of grabbing?

I can't really give an exact amount per second since that'd be hard to calculate, however I can say the speed is very fast. I will record a video of this if you'd like me to.

Since it grabs proxies fast, this means that a lot of them are grabbed. I grabbed over a couple thousand in a few seconds of pressing the "Grab Proxies" button.

Does this get updated alot? And also I noticed you don't have alot of buyers so if I were to buy this would you still care about the program and your customers?

EDIT: Just bought, works great but this is VERY similar to Shadow Proxy

It does get updated and I always do put customers first; my main goal is to make sure all customers are satisfied with what they receive.

And in regards to Shadow Proxy, it seems the GUI is similar as we used the same template, however there are clear differences such as logs, scraper, and etc.

Thanks for your review bud, enjoy!

First of all, thank you FiftyTwo for giving me the chance to review this program.

So, on to my review, I'm quite impressed and satisfied with what I was given. As seen in the screenshot below, the program went from 0 to 3,613 grabbed proxies in a few seconds. I'm truly amazed by this tool and if you're considering this, I'd recommend you to purchase it. ?
