How much you started with? It's rare to see someone brag about forex on this forum. Anyway good luck and keep it up mate!

Yeah me too but on rare occasions when you see opportunities in certain markets, go for it. Also people dont realise what time does, eg i wouldnt be suprised if tommorow I only have £500 cause then a week after that itll probably be £1500.

As they say time is money, same with the stock market

Wow, good luck with this. I thought about getting into it before but never really looked into it in a serious way. Maybe in the future. Anyway, good luck with your journey. Keep us updated.

Considering it's Sterling are you with any of the Spreadbetting brokers?

Also into currency trading myself and doing fairly nicely with a sub £2000 account.

Keep it up!

Ps, Are you on any of the forums? Forexfactory,Tradewin etc? PM privs disabled so happy to Skype/email!
